A curious state of affairs was brought out when Charles Oldham and Ernest Webber were arraigned for fighting at Moran's bourding-house, No. 167 Main street. Oldham testified that both he and Webber have been boarding at Morans' for some time past and have been sleeping in the same room; that they retired as usual on Friday night, and that he was awakened about midnight by Oldham's "hammering" him. Before he could realize what was the matter or get any set upon his friend he had been thoroughly beaten. Oldham told him that he (Webber) had cursed and abused him and in his sleep was getting even. Oldham was not satisfied with the explanation and went to the station-house and made complaint. Detective Curtis went to the boarding-house and arrested Oldham, and in the Police Court yesterday Justice Burroughs fined him $1.25.

Mention was made in the papers a few days ago about an attempt to burglar-lze the residence of Mr. A. W. Chapman, No. 68 Brewer street, and that Mr. Chapman had shot at the burglar on that occasion. The case was placed in Detective Curtis' hands and on Friday night at about 11:30 o'clock he arrested Richard Williams, 'colored, on Main street, on suspicion of being the guilty party. When examined at the police station it was found that there was a bullet hole in his clothing, just under the arm, and upon further investigation as bad bullet hole was found on his body. The regular prison physician probed for the bullet, but was unable to locate it. In the Police Court yesterday Mr. Chapman's son identified the negro as the party at whom his father had shot on the night of the attempted robbery. "Mr. Leo P. While all of the programme was rendered in Mr. Wheat's choicest style, those numbers received with especial favor were the "Minnet' of Paderewski; the 'Nocturne' and 'Impromptu' of Chopir, and the beautiful 'Cuban Dance.' The compositions of Mr. Wheat, which he played by general desire, were his 'Lullaby,' the 'Meh Lady' schottische; and his latest work, the 'Grand Elks' March.'" man who escaped from the police court room in Portsmouth some days ago, while being tried on a charge of bur-glary, but an officer from that city failed to identify him yesterday.
